I beg leave to call your attention to the fact that orders for payment in goods are forbidden by the laws of this State, and that labor must be paid for in money, and, while the contractors are not bound to pay daily, they are bound, when a laborer ceases to be to pay daily, they are bound, when a laborar coales to be employed, to settle up the amount due him in cash, and not by orders upon a store. On August 2 he brought to the office his board bill, which amounted to $12.68. They gave him an order for goods covering that amount. The exchange for it. The contractors seemed to hold the opinion that O'Halloran had no right to collect the money due him until the month was up. SHE SUSPECTS FOUL PLAY. Ann Well, of No. 58 Union-st., Brooklyn, th body of whose husband James was found in the Gowanus Canal on Friday, told the police yesterday that she suspected her husband had been murdered. Her statement was that on Monday of last week three men called at her house to see him when he was not there, and one at them wanted a shovel her husband had borrowed of him.

The man said he would have the shovel back or he would kill her husband. A few minutes later the latter came along and went in the same direction as the men: He was drunk at the time. She did not see him again alive.
The police are investigating the matter

NEWS FROM THE SUBURBS.

NEW-JERSEY. Darien O'Conner, age sixty, committed suicide at noon yesterday by drowning at Elzabethport. He is supposed to have been crazed by rum.

Mart'n Craze, a miner living in Port Oram, died on Monday from the effects of a beating administered by two brothers named Sweeney, who have disappeared An inquest will be held to-day. It has been discovered that the mill stream and pond which supply water for New-Brunswick are choked with putrid fish and vegetable matter. No harm is yet reported and the commissioners of the ent have ordered a complete cleaning to follow the partial clearing out made by Tuesday's Nearly 2,000 people attended the Jamesburg Sun day-school Convention yesterday.

County Physician Converse has ordered an inquest in the case of the two men, Ottz and Moller, who were killed on Monday by caving in of the arch of a new silk mill in West Hoboken. Ottz was to be mar-ried in about two weeks and his mother, who is seventy-nine years old, is on her way over from Germany to be present at the wedding. It is feared that the shock, when she hears of her son's death, will have a serious effect.

MORRISTOWN. Ground was broken last week for the new house for the sheriff, adjoining the Court House.

LONG ISLAND.

The people of Sag Harbor deeply deplore the suicide of the Rev. Edward H. Camp, of Newark. He was engaged to be married to Miss Pussy Reese and the wedding was to take place next month, while n Sag Harbor Mr. Camp showed no signs of treatile.

Insanity.

Another difficulty about road rights has occurred on Long Island, this time at North Haven. Men went to work on Tuesday to remove obstructions from the road from North Haven across both Short and Long Beach. Mr. Lamont, a farmer of Little Hogoneck, objected to this and said that the road, which skirted his property, was upon his land. Many of the men employed held that the road was a public highway. They refused to stop work. Mr. Lamont thereupon went to Sag Harbor and obtained a warrant for the acrest of the men from Judge Bisgood.

WESTCHESTER COUNTY.

The manufacturing firm of J. K. Fenning & Co., at Ludlow, the first station below Yonkers, shut down their works yesterday, throwing out of employment some forty operatives of both sexes. They were engaged in extracting wool from delanes and other rag material by acids to be used in the manufacture of shoddy. They say that the passage of the Mills bill in the lower house of Congress admitting wool free of duty has deterred them from continuing the industrys.

SUICIDE CLEARLY PROVEN.

CAPTAIN VAN DUZEN TESTIFIES THAT CAESAR-INO SHOT HIMSELF. There is no longer any doubt that Monday's Park Row tragedy was a case of suicide, though the motive is somewhat involved. The woman, Maggie Ryan, who had been living with Caesarino, the dead man, as his wife, appeared at Whalen's undertaking establishment yesterday morning to view the body. She seemed greatly affected and was quieted with difficulty. She refused to say where she had been of late, or what had been the nature of the trouble between her husband and herself, but among her acquaintances on Mulberry-st., however, it was learned that she had begun showing a good deal of attention to a young Italian about three months age, and her husband had consequently been jealous of her. When she finally left him, Caesarino became subject to frequent spells of melancholia and often threatened to kill himself. During the day the last doubt of Caesarino's death having been one of suicidal action was removed. The evening previous William D. Van Duzen, of New-Brunswick, N. J., who is employed as captain of one of the Central Railroad Company's floats, was over heard to say that he had witnessed the shooting. This was reported to Coroner Eldmann, and the man was found at his home and brought to the Coroner's office His statement was as follows: " After leaving my float in Jersey City Monday afternoon I boarded the 3:30 boat for Cortlandt-st. I walked from the ferry to the Hillen building, where I stopped to take a car up the Bowery. I was within ten feet of the doorway when I heard a pistol shot, and on turning I saw man fall near the stairs in the hallway. There was no other person in the hallway at the time, nor was there any one that I could see nearer than myself. As I moved up to see the man a crowd rushed in. policeman was soon on hand and I remained until the body was removed on a truck." The result of the autopsy supported this statement for the bullet was found to have penetrated the brain from a point just above the right car, and had lodged back of the left eye. The right hand of the dead man was also burned with powder. Coroner Eldmann being convinced that the case was clearly one of suicide, thereupon dismissed all witnesses.

LIVELY SPECULATING IN AUGUST COTTON. The August cotton corner may be broken, but there was considerable of the speculative fever lurking about the contracts for the month yesterday. A revival of interest by the shorts sent prices up fifty points, but they settled back to nearly the opening figures, and finally closed for August at 10:41.

produce, it being anticipated that there are a few shorts still uncovered. FAILING TO RECOGNIZE SMALLPOX. Considerable excitement was caused at Rahway, N. J., resterday over an outhreak of smallpox in a thickly settled part of the city, and the fact that owing to a failure to recognize the disease a number of people had sed to it. There are fears that more cases will who lives in Essex.st., has been sick. physician was at first of the opinion that the child had chicken pox, but yesterlay, after consultation with Dr. Daly and others, it was decided to be smallpox. The Mayor and the Board of Health at once quarantined the house and will enforce a general vaccination of the neighborhood. The origin of the disease has been much discussed, and when the facts became known considerable indignation was shown by the citizens generally.

It seems that the father of the sick child was taken sick about three weeks ago. The case puzzled the atsevere form of chicken pox. Another physician, how ever, called it smallpox, whereupon two other doctors were called, one of them from Jersey City, and they agreed with the physician in charge of the case that it was chicken pox. It is now evident that Bolton had either smallpox or, more probably, varioloid, and owing to the error of the doctors no precautions were taken. The weather is against the probability of any extended

NOT TOO WEAK-MINDED TO SMUGGLE. Mrs. Volkhart is a widow, who lived in Avenue A. when confined at Bellevue and on Blackwell's Island until last April, when her children sent her to relatives in Ger many. She returned yesterday on the steamship Folds, and Inspectors Brown and Donohue discovered that she was bulkliv clothed for this season of the year. They turned her over to an inspectress, who found sewed up in her clothing one silk dress, one shawl, two gold watches Assman, another immigrant passenger, had concealed on his rings and two pairs of gold ear-rings.

THE FIRM WILL BE DISSOLVED. In the suit for a dissolution of the partnership or the man of Martin Halbdelsch's Sona, manufacturers of chemical goods, Judge Bartlett, of Brooklyn, handed down a decision yesterday dissolving the firm and ordering William Brookfield, the receiver, to sell the property at Bushwick, L. I., Buffalo, N. Y., and Bayenne, N. J., for the benefit of the creditors. The members of the firm Albert M., Franklin H. and Charles Kalbfelsch, made an anterpret in Octonor, 1830, estimating their liabilities. assignment in October, 1886, estimating their liabilities at $340.000.
